SCHOOL REPORT.

In making our report this year we regret to say we are obliged to mingle the bad with the good which is very unpleasant to do, especially where we have so small amount of money to expend for such an important cause, and we hope in the future more money will be raised for school purposes.

We have had two terms of school in each division this year. In division 1 the first term was taught by Miss Florence M. Carlin of Stoneham, Mass. This was Miss Carlin's first term, but having had some practical knowledge of business and an extraordinary good one of books to co-operate with her energy and willingness to work she proved to be an unusually good instructor and the scholars made thorough and good progress.

The second term was closed at the end of five weeks and ought to have been before. Miss Genevieve Winter of Bridgewater, Mass., was teacher. This was Miss Winter's first attempt and we hope it will be her last. Her education was ample but that is not all that is required to make scholars progress in their studies. A person without any energy nor any will to work ought not to be employed as teacher a single week, and the one at fault is willing to bear the blame. Dodge.

In Division No. 2 the first term of ten weeks was taught by Miss Josephine M. Lewis of Hillsborough, who worked hard for the school and the scholars just beginning. Great progress was made. Second term of ten weeks was taught by Miss Gertrude L. Haselton of Washington. The scholars made good progress and were thoroughly instructed. Dresser.
